

GULF COAST CONFERENCE ON PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS (GCCPS)-2010

A BRIEF HISTORICAL REVIEW OF GCCPS-2010:

In February 2009, Professor Kumer P.Das organized a conference on , “Probability and Statistics “ at the Lamar University , Beaumont, Texas. The success of the conference initiated the idea of establish a regular yearly conference in the Gulf Coast Region ranging Texas-Florida including neighboring states. The main objective of the conference is to establish regular academic interactions with colleagues in the region. At that time, it was decided to have the next follow up conference at the University of South Florida, Tampa, Florida.

In the spring of 2009, almost all members of participating States were contacted with regard to the discussion about the name of the conference. The final output about the name of the conference is :
